

The Security Testing People

Why us?

- The #1, largest provider of penetration and security testing in Europe
- Over 50 testers, able to react quickly to your requirements
- Largest team of CHECK and CREST qualified testers in the UK
- 100% ethical - a stable PLC listed on the London Stock Exchange with robust vetting of all staff

NCC Group SecureTest is the penetration and security testing division of NCC Group plc, a leading global provider of independent IT assurance, security and consultancy services.

Our mission is to provide unrivalled testing and training services, whilst at the same time advancing the understanding of security vulnerabilities throughout the IT industry and amongst our clients.

We provide our clients with the reassurance that their systems, networks and web sites will perform as required, showing them how to mitigate the threat of attack from unauthorised sources, both externally and from within the organisation.

We are accredited to ISO 27001 and our testing consultants are certified to relevant industry standards such as CESG CHECK and we are a member of CREST (Council of Registered Ethical Security Testers).

The reason for our success is simple - we meet and exceed expectations - as a result we have very happy clients.

Our Expertise

Penetration Testing:

Network Infrastructures
Web applications
Compiled applications
Wireless networks
Laptops and mobile devices
Remote access
Databases and mainframes
Forensics

Managed Security Monitoring Service:

Daily assurance that your networks and applications stay secure through the provision of more scanning and tailored alerting services

PCI DSS Services:

Gap Analysis
PCI Audit
Quarterly ASV scanning
PCI workshops

Social Engineering:

We test organisations to see where 'people' and physical weaknesses lie

Why work with us?

Working with us is a rewarding and beneficial experience - just ask our clients!

"NCC Group Secure Test continually offers a level of technical sophistication that exceeds our expectations. Its CVSS scoring adds tremendous value."
- CISO, Online Gaming Provider

"NCC Group Secure Test deliver accurate, easy to use reporting which we've used to improve the security of complex and critical infrastructure."
- Information Security Manager, Central Government Office

Our testing team regularly contribute to the industry and security community at large, by discovering new vulnerabilities and exploring new technologies. We provide holistic testing that is carried out to mirror current criminal behaviour. Rather than replicating older and better protected routes, we correlate the findings from various attack vectors and show how a real world compromise can occur.

Our clients also benefit from working in close partnership. We maintain that there is more value to be derived if both parties have an implicit understanding of the processes involved.

We encourage all of our customers to participate in the testing process - active involvement improves overall understanding and often makes remediation simple.

Effective security testing is not about commoditisation - everything we do is bespoke, from the initial quote through to the final debrief. We work to understand your business and therefore where your testing budget would be most effectively used.

Call 0161 209 5111 to discuss your security requirements now

0161 209 5111
securetest@nccgroup.com

Penetration and security testing

Using the up-to-date techniques, technologies and information sources used by genuine hackers to mitigate the identified risks and improve security measures, our services involve far more than simply 'scanning' the network for weaknesses. Our tests are performed 'hands-on' by experienced senior consultants utilising the same methods and tools as hackers, in addition to developing our own. Our 'effective responsible disclosure policy' results in major vulnerabilities being identified and resolved with vendors. Our team has an excellent technical reputation and our research has resulted in many major vulnerabilities being identified and resolved with vendors.

Application testing

We test your applications to ensure they are secure enough to cope with the transactions they are required to undertake (e.g. online banking and order processing). Any application can be tested, including new, bespoke and legacy technologies.

Remote access and remote worker security testing

We explore the security risks to your organisation created by your employees remote and home working e.g. laptop and PDA security (including Bluetooth testing), home and remote worker security, VPN security and access to remote servers.

PCI DSS services

We have extensive knowledge of PCI DSS, how it affects your organisation currently and the impact of future changes. We work with you to help you to understand and implement the security processes necessary to ensure compliance. We are accredited by the Payment Card Industry Security Standards Council as an Approved Scanning Vendor (ASV) and Qualified Security Assessor (QSA). This allows us to carry out the required network security scanning and also assess and confirm your compliance with the standard.

Social engineering testing

We examine in detail the 'people' aspect of security by addressing risks such as unauthorised physical entry into buildings, obtaining sensitive information, impersonation and deception.

Ethical hacking training

We offer security skills training to help your organisation fully understand its security vulnerabilities and how to test for them. Teaching how to identify the risks and perform basic penetration testing. Training courses include: Internet security fundamentals; Internet security advanced; Guided penetration test; Secure application design and PCI DSS workshop.

About NCC Group Secure Test

Secure Test, the penetration and security testing division of NCC Group, is a leading independent provider of expert security testing and training services, with over 500 clients across the private, public and not for profit sectors.

Our mission is to provide the highest quality security testing and training services, whilst advancing the understanding of security vulnerabilities throughout the IT industry and amongst our clients.

We are 100% ethical - all security testing consultants undergo a rigorous security clearance, sponsored by CESG, the Government information security body. Many of our consultants are accredited to the highest levels, allowing them to work on high-level Government security projects of critical national importance.

The reason for our success is simple - we meet and exceed expectations - as a result we have very happy clients from all market sectors, including finance, local & central government, gaming/gambling and service sectors.

NCC Group is a leading global provider of independent IT assurance, security and consultancy services. As a trusted advisor, we help over 15,000 public, private and not for profit sector organisations, including 94 of the FTSE 100, to make the most efficient use of information and technology and to manage the associated risks.

Call us now: 0161 209 5111

- Speak with a SecureTest security expert
- Book a SecureTest workshop
- Read a sample report
- Read a SecureTest research paper
- Request an invite to a SecureTest security event

Our accreditations:

